It is a far cry from the old-fashioned school system to the one operated at Washington Park High. Ichabod Crane taught in an environment requiring a minimum of instruction and all too much discipline. Today, discipline largely takes care of itself—the instruction being generally adequate—and students and teachers work together in capacity of friends and advisers. Each group has its fun and its problems.

The Kipi staff has endeavored to present the elder group of its school population in both aspects: elsewhere in the book various individuals in connection with diverse interests; here as the photographer found them.

Women members of the teaching force had a spring dress-up party. The costumes were most fetching. In the back row (upper left) stand Misses Pennefeather, Hemmer, Harvey, Enright, McDonald, Sawyer and Dougherty; seated are Misses Walker, Simmons, Holt and Mrs. Felton. Can you tell whom each represents?

World and old New World costumes.

Miss Neitzel, (center left) is caught by the camera in the midst of a class lecture. Mr. Saetveit, despite the fact that he is now a car owner and prefers to ride, is pictured out on the middle of all things, a foot bridge (center right).

Back of the eye bandages, believe it or not, is Principal W. F. Hood entering into the fun at Tri Alpha's "Dad's Night." If we were inclined to point a lesson, we'd say the picture proves the need of "a clear vision in a troubled world."

Sideglances

When two scientists get together we'd suspect them of talking science, but what might the subject be when a social scientist joins in. You guess what Mr. Berven, Mr. Sanders and Mr. Iselin are discussing (upper left).

Said the photographer, "Caught Mr. Von Haden in a typical pose. He'll love me for printing it!" (Upper center) Do you recall seeing that finger massaging a tired eye?

We thought at first that Miss Baker was carrying a birthday cake, and carrying it high to avoid corridor calamities. On second thought we realized she was in a group of teachers at the ladies' costume party. Accounted for in the picture (right) are, standing: Misses Rodefer, Jones, Teuscher, Baker, Pugh and DuFour; and seated: Misses Potter, Mohr, Hunter and Collier.

If we aren't mistaken, the lady group encountered some dissident elements. Picketing the party appear to be three rather modern misses, Pennefeather, McDonald and Dougherty (upper right).

"You take them out, put them on in black or red, and put them back." The occasion is the recording of semester grades on students' cards in the library. Shown at the racks "taking and putting" are Mr. Walter, Mr. Rogers and Miss Simmons (center left).

It's a glorious day! The photographer noted that, but what she forgot to do was mention whether or not Miss Shankland (center left) was smiling as she arrived at, or left, school for the day. Could you guess?

the day. Could you guess?

The "close-up"—pardon the pun—would indicate that Mr. A. B. Close is applying some of that scientific judgment of his (bottom left). By keeping his head below that of his opponent, won't Lois Lettsome take the weight off the other string and permit the vice principal to approach the marshmallow with "blitzkrieg" speed?

Park

High light of the first Student Council assembly program of the year was the Marx brothers impersonation presented as the last item on a variety program. Pictured as they explained, "Who's on first, What's on second," are Al Zupek, Art Aiello and Dave Hansen. The costumes and apparatus used, we understand, were entirely of the boys' own creation.

Roll Call 107 was one of several Park winners in the annual Park-Horlick game ticket sales contest. As a result the group, composed entirely of boys, had some prize money at its disposal. How it was invested may readily be seen. Standing to the back are Joe Reinhofer, Norman Zierke, George Beyer, Bill Seater, Ray Anderson, Paul Bulik and Robert Blaesing. Nearer the food supplies are Joe Alcott, Tom Miller, John Swengel, Alvin Nielsen, Art McCallum and Bob Larson. As the "gang" was graduated in midyear, some other roll call will have an opportunity of winning the prize in 1940. Doesn't the "feed" look as if it were worth going after?

"Jitterbug dancing" may be on the wane, but it hasn't lost its action. At least the demonstration given at the first Council assembly by Mike Marudas and Dorothy Goetz proved a point or two as to what grace and dexterity are required to put on a first rate performance.

Bill Mahdik and Melvin Johnson, caught in the act of upsetting Joe Sachen, pretend they are catching flies.

The performance is all part of the "challenge" pre-Horlick game assembly at which "their gang" is invited to meet "our gang" in a "fair and square contest, and may the best gang win!"

Life

Because of overcrowded conditions in the senior high schools, some 140 sophomores were enrolled last fall at Henry Mitchell school, and there they received their first two semesters of high school work. Next fall the group will enter Park. Students from this "Park annex" joined high school clubs, tried out for sport teams, paid SCA dues and in other ways took part in Park school life.

In addition to participating in many Park activities, "annex" students also had a program at their own building. Above are pictures of a Christmas party.

Santa Claus, substituted for by Victor Hansen, finally arrived at the party and is shown handing out gifts to a throng of friends. Among those in the circle who are recognizable are Donald Geoghan, Ralph Bode, George Maranger, Warren Lehman, Fred Hansche, Royce Aiello, John Rango, George Nield, Janet Rasmussen and Ewald Christiansen.

"Girl Shy" was the name of the production dramatized by Mitchell students during the spring semester. Several of the players in this modern costume cast were Florence Dawes, Robert Morgan, Pat Rastal, Carol Burkert, Lois Weaseman and Norman Madsen, pictured as caught by the photographer at a rehearsal.

Director of the play was Miss Summers.

Mary Evans and Bill Bridgman sway through a graceful routine at the second Council Assembly.

Plugging away even during roll-call period we find Richard Beere, Art Ertel, Ernest Wintis, Dorothy Chap, Louis Buffam and James Atherton.

Bud Silver holds up flag and pole, Alvin Troestler handles the ropes, and Head Janitor Curtis Hall directs operations at flag raising ceremonies. Joe Longo and Henry Gunther are among the interested observers.

Waiting for school to open at noon are Sterl Matson, Clif Wick, Bob Baldwin, Nan Mueller, Ray Oleski, C. Berg, J. Armaganian, D. Miller, J. Nehmer, M. Thompson and D. Johnston.

In recognition of the undisputed championship of the Big Eight won by Park, the runnerup position attained by Horlick, and the improved record of St. Catherine, the Racine Association of Commerce this year sponsored a civic testimonial dinner which hundreds of citizens attended, and to which the members of all three teams were invited as guests. Various representatives of civic organizations spoke. The picture shows the festive board, as seen from the middle of the banquet floor and shooting the length of the Park players' table. As the upturned cups indicate, food has not yet been presented for disposal. Neither have "Dutch" Lomberg, Paul Soper and Don Clausen, Northwestern University speakers, appeared as yet.

"Undefeated Champions of the Big Eight" is the title of Park High's football team this year.

A strong North Division eleven came to Racine for Park's first game. An early second quarter drive from their own 35 gave Park the first touchdown. Harvey Schrader, center, then intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards to another touchdown. Again the point after failed. North came back to run up two touchdowns against Park.

In a biting cold wind of hurricane proportions that interfered with both passing and punting, Park played to a scoreless tie against Kenosha in its first conference game. The edge in statistics went to Park, but the Red Devils would not let the Orange and Blue advance beyond their 20 yard marker. Fumbles at critical moments prevented possible touchdown drives.

Varsity Football

A sensation this year at converting extra points was Joe Bobeck with the "magic toe." Manager Furrenes holds the ball and Manager Highman looks on as Joe warms up his toe in practice.

The following week in its first home conference game, Park trounced Madison East 13 to 2. Dick Miller led the scoring for Park and Joe Bobeck kicked the extra point.

Undisputed first place was at stake when Madison Central moved into Racine. Madison's high hopes were centered around Ted Scalissi, a small, fast, hard-hitting, shifty back whom Park managed to hold to little gain on his repeated tries.

Venturing into Madison West territory, Park came through one of its closest games of the season. Joe Bobeck was the hero in this game.

On an inside tackle play, Dick Miller is gaining ground. On the next play Park scores a touchdown against East.

The regulars line up against the second team. Visible in the foreground are Neider and Brusko. Bahnson awaits the charge of the forward line of the opposition as do the rest of varsity squad.

When Park's offense worked, many long gains were made on runs. At the end of one of these runs Dick Miller (51) is coming in to block and Jack Finch is on his back, a Janesville man diving over him.

After each of the two touchdowns by Park's scoring ace, Dick Miller, he sent a perfect kick from placement over the bars, giving Park its margin of victory as West managed to push over two touchdowns but failed on tries for extra points.

Against Janesville here, the ball was well in enemy territory most of the afternoon. The varsity crossed the goal on three occasions, the Park second string scored a touchdown when Dick Aiello plunged over the line, and Joe Bobeck kicked the extra points.

At Beloit, Park handed the Purple its first defeat on its home field in many years. When things looked bad for Park in the first period, Dick Miller intercepted a pass and ran 100 yards to a touchdown. Park scored two more touchdowns with the honors going to Aiello and Zupek. Bobeck's extra point kicks were blocked. A pass to Koehler provided the only point after touchdown.

Before the largest crowd ever to watch a football game in Racine, Park played Horlick to an exciting scoreless tie in their annual intra-city game. Statistics gave the edge to Horlick, but Park came closest to scoring when a pass dribbled off the fingertips of the intended receiver inside the 10 yard stripe. Another pass deep into Horlick territory missed two waiting receivers by inches.

The 1939 "B" football squad, under the leadership of Coach George Walter, completed a successful season by winning five and losing three games. The primary purpose of the "B" team was to teach the fundamentals of the game and to develop future varsity candidates to defend the title brought to Park this year.

The team played in a league that is known as the Lake Shore Conference, a new member of which was Kenosha. Larger schools used only freshmen and sophomores.

The junior reserves also will be relied upon to help defend the title. Coach Leigh Steinman directed this group through a very successful four game season.

Wrestlers

An undefeated wrestling squad under the leadership of Coach Guy Weaver brought the southwestern championship to Park this year. After defeating all opponents in this section of the country the team placed third in the state wrestling tournament. The tournament, held at Lawrence College, brought success to four members of the squad. Sam Muir, in the finals, defeated an opponent in the 165 pound class from Green Bay West to win first place in that division. A man from West Milwaukee was defeated in the finals by Arnold Volz who won first place in his weight. Bob Hall defeated his men to win first place in the 135 pound class. George Scholzen took third place in the 115 pound class.

Milwaukee Washington took first place team honors with 27 points, second was claimed by Green Bay West having 22 points, and 2 points behind was Park in third place. Park entered only a six man team, so did not compete in four weights.

Erwin Nelson, a veteran, was lost to Park due to graduation in February. George Scholzen, Bob Hall, Bob Dederich, Sam Muir and Arnold Volz, all veterans of long experience, will be graduated in June. This leaves a very slim squad with which to work next year, but Coach Weaver has hopes of retaining Park's share of the wrestling honors. Joe Sinsky, who will be graduated in mid-year, is the only letter man returning.

Back Row: Mgr. Diem, D. Aiello, J. Hegeman, Placko, Russ Jensen, L. Jerstad, T. Olson, Ralph Petersen, S. Komistra, Ralph Smith, Mgr. Christensen. Although six lettermen returned to form a nucleus for the 1939-40 basketball team, four of them completed their careers as high school cagers in mid-year. Because of this fact Coach Clark Van Galder had to experiment in early season to find a quintet of high scoring ability. This squad of newly developed regulars was called upon for intensive duty during the second round of play.

Clarence Dykstra was shifted from forward to center for the earlier games and was relieved there by Chuck Koehler. Upon the completion of their eligibility, the center spot was handled by Russ Jensen, John Brusko and LeRoy Jerstad. Dick Miller and Ken Bahnson occupied forward and guard positions, respectively, throughout the season. The other forward's territory was covered by Ralph Petersen, Stan Kuzia, Emil Haluska and Bob Fisher. Other guards were Art Ontko, Don Placko, Ralph Smith and Ray Schoening.

The first game with Madison Central proved to be the deciding one in the final standings. If this game had been a victory for the Orange and Blue, a championship might have been claimed by the local cagers.

This was the second time in as many years that Park placed second in the final standings. A year ago Park lost its share in the Big Eight title by one point in the crucial game with Janesville. Because of an additional year of work under Coach Van Galder, and greater familiarity with his system of play, the team was generally considered one of the strongest in the league and somewhat stronger than the team of the preceding season.

First Row: Kuzia, Francis, B. Fisher, Brusko, C. Dykstra, D. Miller, C. Koehler, Bahnson, A. Ontko.

Francis and Fisher close in while Brusko guards Kuzia as he dribbles in front of Coach Van Galder. Miller and Henkes, in the rear, look on.

This year, for the first time in several years, the Big Eight participated in the W.I.A.A. state basketball tournament. The regional contests in which Park played were held in the new gymnasium of the Wauwatosa High School. Park, although favored in its first tournament game, bowed to Cudahy as a result of a final-minute basket. A peculiar type of defense used by the victors proved to be the undoing of Park's squad. In the first consolation game Park ran away with Menominee Falls to the tune of 31-12. This, however, proved to be Park's only successful battle in the tournament since they were defeated by Walworth High 25-26 the final night.

Dick Miller led both his team and the Big Eight conference in scoring by totaling 121 points in a 12-game season. Kuzia followed him on the team with a total of 68 points. In the tournament, Dick Miller also lead his team with 36 points and Russ Jensen came close behind with 30.

Highlight of the Park basketball season undoubtedly was the Central basketball game here. Central, undefeated to that point, was the only team ahead of Park in the standings. Park, playing perfect ball and shooting effectively, tied up Central's offense while piling up a huge lead. Then, with at least a share of the title in their grasp, the boys bowed before two teams whom they had previously defeated. A Kenosha victory over Central was of no aid to Park.

The start of the Park-Horlick game saw Dykstra jumping center with Svitavsky of Horlick. Kuzia gets set for the tip while Ontko (20) and Bahnson in the back guard their intra-city rivals.

Coaches Van Galder and Krause map out their basketball campaign for the 1939-40 season.

The 1940 "B" squad basketball team developed several varsity prospects. The quintet met plenty of stiff competition, the toughest probably being Union Grove High School. The team from the Grove defeated Park in two of the three games played. Coach Krause found several combinations which seemed to work well. One of the most effective of these groups included Bobeck and Fuller as forwards, Saucke at center, and Leslie and Johnson in the guard positions. Playing in preliminary contests to the regular league games, the "B" team attracted large early attendances.

With a .track team of well balanced strength excepting possibly in the weight events, the Park thinclads looked like good material at the beginning of the season. Many boys reported for the running events including the mile, half mile, and quarter mile. Hurdlers and sprinters showed much promise and Coach Van Galder expressed hopes of finishing higher in the Big Eight track standings this year. The high jumpers, pole vaulters and broad jumpers also showed ability. Lettermen returning to the track team were Jim Glidden, Frank Caligiuri, John Macko, John Nietupski, Stan Kuzia and Ed Wojcik. In their first meet of the spring, Park placed five points behind South Milwaukee to take second place. Horlick placed third in this triangular meet. Other scores were not available at the time when copy went in.

With four lettermen returning and many new promising players reporting for practice, the outlook for 1940 looked fairly bright for Coach Krause's golf squad. Seven inter-school meets and the Big Eight Meet in Beloit were scheduled.

Hockey is a major Fall sport

Laura Arcuri and Veronica Bellovary of the fifth hour gym class, are intent upon getting the ball in their possession. Once they have control of the ball there will be a long drive for a goal. If Bessy Skropko or Ann Demet, of the opposing team, doesn't intercept, a score wll be made. Once a score is made it all begins again.

In the fall, soccer is played alternately with hockey. Tournaments are organized and the competition between the teams adds to the excitement of the game. The ball has gotten away from Jo Gaudio and it is up to Polly Durgin to stop and kick the ball between the pegs for an out. Margaret Yankee, Arlene Nordstrom, Louise Falk and Jeannette Pedersen are prepared to help direct the ball if it might go astray.

"On your mark, get set, go!"
Rose Leskowicz, Pearl Leskowicz, Lottie Sawyer, Eleanor Ulriak, Marcella Bidstrup and Marion Jacobsen are ready to run the 50 yard dash. A contest is held to determine the fastest girl to run this dash. In every gym class each girl is timed and a winner is found. A grand winner is selected on the basis of various class time trials.

Girls' Sports

Front row: Julia Stupak, Veronica Bellovary, Marjorie Nelson, Stella Putra and Ann Demet. The girls who played forward are in the back while those in the front row played guard. Marjorie Nelson was captain of this winning team. Marjorie Spring and Leona Prentice, an alumnus, refereed the games.

Miss Hemmer picked a basketball team from the gym classes made up of girls who do not belong to the Girls Athletic Association. This team played the sophomore G.A.A. team and was defeated by a score of 17 to 32. The picture was taken in the course of the game.

A basketball game was interrupted for Violet Andersen to take a free shot. Heartened by the interview reports of what students liked about the 1939 Kipikawi, the 1940 staff proceeded to plan improvements on the popular innovations introduced the previous year. An effort to picture everyone in action pictures—with several pages set aside for group pictures of persons not so shown—was again decided upon, with a complete index being presented.

A change in printing process, from letter press to lithographic-offset, made possible greater usage of picture and art materials, so that was worked into layout plans. A faculty section of portraits was omitted in favor of "sideglances" and activity pictures in an effort to gain variety and interest appeal. Senior section pages were laid out so as to include activity listings.

In an effort to reduce expenditures, for the first time a portion of the composition was done in the local print shop. Several of the opening section pages, and the entire senior section, was set up by Park students. The success of this experiment may lead to an extension of this practice in future years. Excellent composition problems are presented the advanced student printers in preparing such material.

The Kipi Staff again this year has done everything in its power to give the Park students the best possible book for the money, and has done everything it could to keep the annual a student publication representative of the whole school. If the staff has failed, assume some responsibility for that yourself. If it has succeeded, extend part of the congratulations to yourself. It has been a community effort to which all have made contributions.

Speaking for the staff I wish to express our appreciation of the cooperation given us by the student body, teachers and public. A special word of thanks is due the Charles, the Hollywood, the Malme and the Mezinis studios; to Mr. E. C. Schroeter of the Welch Manufacturing Company for special aids granted us; and to Mr. Adolph Wagner for the Wrong Font page material.

Student Council

The main event of each semester of the school year is the campaign assembly in which nominees campaign for election. Officers for the first semester were President Richard Poplawski, Vice president Al Zupek, Secretary Joyce Thome and Treasurer Art Aiello. Ken Bahnson, Dick Miller, Joyce Thome and Art Aiello were chosen for the respective offices for the second semester.

Olwyn Jones, Irving Christenson, Hattie Wenscott and Mrs. Felton are putting up decorations (lower left) for the all school dance sponsored

S.C.A. stands for Student Cooperative Association. The S.C.A. at Park has about 1400 members who pay $3.40 a year for which they receive a Kipikawi, Beacons, a ticket for the senior class play and tickets for the home football and basketball games. Quill and Scroll

For the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and allied fields, members of Park's two publication staffs, the Kipikawi and the Park Beacon, are taken into the Quill and Scroll society. Members of this international honor society for high school journalists must be chosen from the students enrolled in high school and at the time of their election must be of at least junior standing, must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing, must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor, must be recommended by the supervisor or committee governing publications, and must be approved by the international secretarytreasurer.

Officers at present are Dorothy Bowman, president; Bob Sykes, vice president; Edith Berven, secretary; and Esther Strebel, treasurer.

Members at Park during the 1939-40 term were: Edith Berven, John Boisclair, Dorothy Bowman, Lorraine Buhler, Florence Carre, Virginia Devine, Margaret Due and Mary Jerstad.

Others included Robert Jessen, Richard Poplawski, Laura Stasieluk, Esther Strebel and Bob Sykes.

National Honor Society

Governed by rules set forth by the faculty, senior A students are having an even more difficult time to be elected to the National Honor Society this year than previously. With an attempt being made to lessen the number of people who gain the honor and certain restrictive qualifications listed, membership in this organization will be even more sought after than in previous years.

When a student has gained a superior scholastic record, his name is entered upon the lists and it then requires two opposing votes with reasons deemed adequate by the facity committee to eliminate the candidate. By a process of elimination, a selective few are honored by invitations for entrance into the society.

Reasons for recommending the various candidates must be offered before the names will even be considered so as to bring about the fairest possible result.

A student is judged upon the basis of his or her Scholarship, Character, Service and Leadership—the four governing qualitites.

Of over 180 graduates in February, but 24 gained this honor of being inducted into this organization. They include:

Mildred Ahlschlager Joe Alcott Edith Berven Robert Blaesing Dorothy Bowman Paul Bulik Margaret Due Josephine Elholm Maxine Forss Steve Hasko Jean Haumersen Robert Holmdohl Janet Hood Hazel Lattenville Irene Mantle Mae Nelson Patricia Pinard Richard Poplawski Elaine Schubert Esther Strebel Robert Thoemke Bernice Thompson William Zehrt Albert Zupek

Of those graduating in June, the following were elected to the National Honor Society:

The Park Beacon

After Beacons have been distributed to Parkites, about 300 are sent to other schools. Preparing them for mailing (upper left) are Alice Christensen and Pat Halpin.

The responsibility of getting the Beacon out on time rests with the Board of Control. Some of the board members (upper right) are John Nietupski, Vivian Walley, Bob Sykes, Lorraine Buhler, Grant Stelter, Bob Jessen, Lois Wolfe and Clifford Kelsey, advised by Miss Case, standing.

On December 22, 1939, Parkites were pleasantly surprised to find a large, four-color picture on the front page of their Beacons. It was the first colored picture ever published in a school newspaper.

In the fall term Dorothy Bowman and Bob Sykes served as executive editors with Mary Jersted, Edith Berven, Lorraine Buhler and Grant Stelter as under-editors. This spring term Lorraine Buhler and Bob Sykes were editors-inchief, aided by Grant Stelter, feature editor, and Bob Jessen, desk editor.

Science Department

Biology, which is primarily a sophomore course, is taught by Mr. Close, Mr. Krause and Mr. Sanders. Although most of the studying is done indoors, the classes do make field trips in order to study different species of trees, flowers and birds.

One very interesting object in both of the biology rooms is the aquarium in which are all kinds of water animals and plants. Russell Zunke, Ralph Webber, James Jensen, Dorothy Schafer, Irene Schuknecht and Bob White are watching some of the fish (upper left).

Between the two biology rooms is the plant room. Russell Skow is ready to water the plants on the upper shelf as soon as Betty Lochowitz finishes those below. Ray Reinecke and Richard Peterson are ready to assist them if necessary (upper right).

To study the movements of the amoeba and the paramecium is the goal of Don Olle, Mary Brothers, Dave Schlender and Eunice Johnson as they look into the microscopes. Iman Shovers and Hugh Burns eagerly await their chance to do some observing.

Delores Christensen knows it's only plaster, so she does not shudder as she reaches for a head model. Roger Simonsen and Robert Christensen stand by to give aid if necessary (lower right).

Chemistry, the science course limited for the most part to seniors, is taught by Mr. Rogers and Mr. Close. The work is divided almost equally between laboratory work and lecture and text-book work.

Sugar! Would you believe that all that writing on the board stands for what goes into your coffee? John Wagner is writing the formula with the aid of Richard Smith (upper left). Art Pedersen is the observer who is learning something—he hopes.

Physics, primarily a junior course, deals with the various physical laws. One of the phases of the work is a study of electricity. The interest of this group—Dick Powell, Arthur Sorenson, Edwin Thogersen, Anker Poulsen, Lily Larsen and Violet Rasmussen—is centered upon a static electricity machine which generates, stores for a time, and then releases in a spark its static electricity (lower left).

The attention of this group of chemistry students is attracted by a delicate scale which weighs minute quantities. Dick Magnan is using the scale. Those watching him are Ernest Wintis, Sterling Matson, Geraldine Helm, Wendell Olson, Ray Gilday, Polly Walter and

Movie Operators . . Photography Club

Organized as a club for over a year under A. B. Close, the Movie Picture Operators of Park have seen considerable service operating the two motion picture and the lantern-slide machines in the school. The newer "movie" machine, equipped with a sound track, requires especially skilled operators, so each member has as his goal, status as a "talkie" operator.

Derks, Betty Klinkhammer, Anna Mae Kowalsky, Kermit Hansen, Warren Wisby and Robert Friedman.

Science Club . . Radio Club

The main object of the Science club during the past semesters has been the telescope pictured above. A graduate, Donald Livingston, and Lawrence Matarrese, a senior, provided the "push" and nearly everyone in the club worked until a masterpiece worth approximately $150 was completed. ,

Probably the last to leave the building on Wednesday afternoons, the Radio club members, under the direction of C. J. Haumersen, spend much of their time in building and studying receiving sets.

Wichaka, the largest club in the school, is an organization of girls and is affiliated with the Y.W.C.A. It is divided into three groups, sophomore, junior and senior sections, each of which has its own adviser and own officers. The three advisers are: sophomore section, Miss Shankland; junior section, Miss Petersen; and senior section, Miss Teuscher. General officers of the club for the fall semester were Ruth Ann Scheuss, president; Kay Winger, vice president-treasurer; Elaine Stewart, secretary; and Jackie Guilbert, social chairman. For the spring semester they were Betty Harter, president; Jeanne Schwartz, vice president-treasurer; Frances Skinner, secretary; and Iris Wurz, social chairman.

Once each year the Wichaka girls entertain their teachers at the Faculty Tea (upper right). Each teacher is the guest of one or two girls. At Christmas time Sophomore Wichaka gave a play. The cast, (lower right) here in a rehearsal, consisted of Mary Claire Lahr, Elaine Fryer, Mary Jane Miller, Ellen Hammell, Celia Wyman, Marion Senstad, Mary Jane Thompson and Jeanne Sorauf.

Each spring Wichaka has its Lenten Breakfast (lower left). Delphia Hall and Doris Erickson are interested in the food while Norma Wyman, Adell Sundsted and Alida Carlson are conversing.

Wichaka

More seniors honored at Wichaka's senior farewell (left center) were Lois Hansen, Ruth Neilsen, Janet Hood, Nancy Gittins, Verl Hintz and Minette Grust. Peggy Betz has the attention of the audience which includes Elaine Fryer, Judy Jarvis, Joan Belden, Irene Marudas, Jean Clausen, Jean Connell, Rosemary Hulett, Mary Claire Lahr, Louise Vavrin, Marion Senstad, Celia Wyman, Annette Olson, Miss Rodefer, Frances Skinner, Mardelle Schneller, Ruth Wilson, Elaine Stewart, Carol Quimby and Jocille Moran.

This season's Sophomore Wichaka was evidentally dramatically inclined for here (lower left) we see the cast of another play which the group presented. The cast was Lois Matson, Joyce Kammerer, Marion Odders, Elaine Stewart, Lois Alcott, Lois Ove, Evelyn Brauer, Dorothy Rogstad, Carol Quimby, Betty Bush, Kathryn Leach, Corinne Nelson, and Mardelle Schneller.

Every fall Wichaka sponsors an all school sport dance. The title of this year's dance was "Doughnut Drag." Virginia Jorgenson and Bob Belden are shown occupying their throne as queen and king of the Doughnut Drag. Bonnie Calkins and Rita McCarthy are the crown bearers (lower right).

"Excursion," 1939

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Excursion," by Victor Wolfson, told the story of a Coney Island steamboat captain who planned to head out to sea with his crew and passengers to an uncharted island somewhere south of Trinidad.

In the cast were Jean Binks, playing the part of Tessie; Shirley Reagen, Martha; Margaret Due, Lollie; Art Stoffel, Tony; Bill Schaefer, Pop; Art McCullum, Gilchrist; Harry Cook, Matson; Owen Johnson, Linton; Jim Gibson, Candy Boy; Shirley Brennen, Lee Pitman; Albert Zupek, Richard Pitman; Mary Jane Duffy, Eileen; Sally Rohan, Miss Dowdie; James Murphy, Mac Colman; Bob James, Obadiah Rich; Bob Bush, Jonathan Rich; Joe Blaske, Aikens; Clyde Mortensen, Spike Morgan; Ruth Ann Scheuss, Maisy; Ruth Schoenhofen, Lily; Patricia Pinard, Daisy Loschavio; Rudyard Goodland, Pat Sloan; Charles Luhn, Mike Geasling; Art Jorgensen, Stevens; Mary Simons, Mrs. Geasling; Jean Rothschild, Mrs. Fitchel; Dave Hansen, Mr. Fitchel.

During one of the tense moments in the play "Excursion", we see Bob James, and Bob Bush in conference (center top).

Ping Pong Club & Badminton Club

The Badminton Club, which was recently reorganized, is under the direction of Mr. Von Haden. Officers are Rolland Berger, president; Julia Stupak, vice president; and Clifford Wick, secretary-treasurer. The members are divided into three groups. Each group plays on either Monday, Wednesday or Friday noon.

Margaret Smith and Helen Putra demonstrate correct technique to a group of members (upper picture) which consists of Betty Gilbertson, Dorothy Nelson, Jean Clausen, Jeannette Frank, Julia Stupak, Clifford Wick, Ivar Furrenes, Rolland Berger, Elmer Mogensen, Bob Andersen, Bernard Stroschine, Don Sykes, Helen Kweksus, and Alice Nielsen.

The Ping Pong Club, under the direction of Miss Pennefeather, meets once each week. At each meeting the members hold tournaments among themselves. Once each semester a joint tournament is held with the Ping Pong Club of Horlick. The officers of the club for the fall semester were Betty Johnson, president; Arthur Warren, vice president; Melvin Anderson, secretary; and Betty Mogensen, treasurer. During the spring semester the officers were Sam Yoghourtjian, president; Lois Jordon, vice president; Stanley Kuzia, secretary; and Irene Gill, treasurer.

Betty Pantridge, Shirley Jordon, Miss Pennefeather, Margaret Sandor, Willy Loendorf, and John Mastous watch the game of doubles in which Lois Jordon and Nancy Mills are one team (right).

Mitchell annex has a Badminton Club of its own. Pictured (bottom) is Miss Healy, the adviser, demonstrating a correct serve to Audrey Adrianson, Howard Fancher, Bill Hall, Betty Jean Smith, and George Olson.

Forum Club -:- Debate

A club which was recently reorganized under the direction of Mr. Russell is the Forum. The club sponsors debating and discussion of public problems and gives to its members experience in parliamentary law. This year it brought to the school Father Roth who spoke on "Life Under the Hitler Regime." Some of the other important activities of the Forum are the conducting of mock elections and student opinion polls, The present officers of the club are John Borman, president; Bob Goodman, vice-president; Louise Fallico, secretary; and Bob Johnson, treasurer.

"What shall I do? I don't want my picture taken." These are the words of Charles McCormack (upper left). Gertrude Baranick signifies her ignorance of the subject by a shrug and by shutting her eyes.

Debate is a course which gives the versatile people about school a chance to give vent to their thoughts. Each debate is on a different subject so that the students gain a widespread knowledge of national, local, and cultural subjects.

Earl St. John, the second speaker for the negative, is shown giving his viewpoint (upper right). Reinhold Ramig and Bill Thompson, the affirmative team, and Bob Marshall, the first negative speaker, listen to his arguments.

A discussion of the poll conducted among the students by the Forum is being carried on by Mr. Russell, Bob Goodman, Bob M. Johnson, and Louise Fallico (left). Their audience is John Borman, Jean Durgin, and Helen Redmond.

Library Club

The library club is organized under the direction of Miss Jones. The club has meetings at which educational subjects are discussed. Members of the club work in the library during their study periods in order to assist Miss Jones and Miss Vold, the librarians.

An annual affair of the library club is its bookweek exhibit. At this exhibit new and interesting books are placed on display. Seen (upper right) with a few of the newer books are Florence Hogan, Gertrude Heusdens, Anna Hunter, Miss Jones, and Alice Hodges.

The library is the scene of many teas and parties during the year. The hostesses here (left) are Miss Vold, Elizabeth Fergus, Mildred Johnson, and Palmina Trentadue.

During the book week exhibit, students are given an opportunity to go into the library and examine the new books. We see a typical scene of "book worms" (below). At the first table are Sally Rohan, Bill Lang, Alma Selky, and Jewel Beres. The second table has as its occupants, Bill Baldwin, James Jerstad, Mabel Olsen, Joe Shoop, Don Christensen, and Clayton Nielsen. Along the back of the room from left to right are Goldia Blitstien, Margaret Rendall, George Bomier, George Ayers, Raymond Jensen, Leo Sficos, and Bob A. Christensen.

Language

Translating "Caesar" seems rather a light task for Dorothy Pedersen and Catherine Muratore while Jack Pakter and Bob Patterson are concentrating more deeply (upper left). Do you suppose that they are closely following the maneuvers of Caesar or that they are just plain "stuck"?

Miss Weichers is the adviser of the German club. This year the club's program was centered about the study of the lives of great German poets and dramatists.

Clubs

Latin students also enjoy singing. Dorothy Chap accompanies Ann Shimkus, Stanley Zupek, Margaret Armaganian, and Jack Chapman (upper right).

Miss Laub tests Harlowe Olson's and Mervyn Neitzel's knowledge of the geography of France while Ethel Kacvin and Leone Undorf study oral and written French (right).

With Miss Knudsen as an onlooker, Marion Jacobsen, Jean Moritz, Romayne Larsen, Ellen Patrick, Joan Schuit, and Clifford Wick play a French game patterned upon our bingo (left). Instead of numbers, the cards contain pictures of common articles with their French names.

Another French pastime is a game of cards which resembles our game of "Authors" (below). Helen Topalian, Henrietta Drier, Anna Benrubi, Beverly Bowne, and Lucy Fornary try their luck at matching as Jean Potterville and Evelyn Paulson watch them.

The French club is organized for students who have had at least one year of French. It furnishes educational entertainment for its members. The officers for the fall semester were Katherine C. Jones, president; Anna Benrubi, vice president; Grant Stelter, secretary; and Marion Jacobsen, treasurer. In the spring semester the club was led by Lucy Fornary, president; Marion Jacobsen, vice president; Clifford Wick, secretary; and Helen Topalian, treasurer.

Mr. Rowe demonstrates to Roger Healy, Janet Quella, Harriet Halub, and Ruth Peterson, the correct appliance of stage make-up.

Nancy Black directs Peggy Wood, and Jim Kark in a scene from "Afterward".

For the possible benefit of his classmates Bob Heise removes false teeth—in pantomine.

1940 Cast Senior

The senior class play, "Stage Door," by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman, produced at the Uptown Theater May 23, and 24, portrayed the struggle and disappointments received by amateurs of the stage in seeking the successes they hoped to attain.

Park's dramatic club, The West Lane Players, had for the past semester as president, Nancy Black and for vice-president, Art Fortier. This group has produced several plays which were given at the Community House. The last to be produced was the "Happy Journey" by Thornton Wilder. Those who took part were Bob Sykes, Dorothy McNeill, Betty Bush, Bob Heise, and Lawrence Matarrese.

Repairing scenery for their dramatic class are Betty Nasiatko, Lucille Granger, Lila Hansen, and Marcelene Glines.

Rehearsing at the WRJN studios for the High School Speaks program are Dick Neubert, Carol Quimby, and Tom Devine.

Presenting a scene from the play, "The Valient", are Fritz Draeger, Richard Heck, and Dale Patrick.

Advanced band enrollment is larger this year than ever before. There are forty-five pupils in the "B" band. This band acts as a feeder to the "A" band.

A new feature this semester is the "C" band. This band is for students who desire to learn to play an instrument and get into the other two bands. Some instruments are furnished by the school for this group, as well as for the bands and orchestras. Beginners meet on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday noons.

The "A" band plays at basketball games, football games, assemblies, the May Festival, the Christmas Festival, and participates in some parades. "A" band and equipment has been increased to sixty-six uniforms this year.

An added feature at football games of the future, and a few of the past, is the twirling drum majors. Mr. Schulte expects many try-outs for the position of drum-major next fall.

Washington Park Orchestra

The "A" and the "B" orchestras have an average of ninety-five members enrolled. There are thirty students in the Beginners' orchestra. This instrumental group acts as a feeder to the "A" orchestra. Students of this group are trained to fill places vacated by graduates and pupils that are dropped.

The "A" orchestra is of correct symphonic instrumentation. Commencement exercises, the May Festival, the Christmas Festival, and some assemblies fill in the calendar of activities for the year.

The orchestra and band are working under one serious handicap. Only a small percentage of the instrumental enrollment actually take private lessons on the instruments played. However, Mr. Schulte has done a splendid job with all instrumental groups in spite of this handicap.

Members of the orchestra that were absent when the picture was taken are: Caroll Andersen, Leonard Clark, Lois Foreman, Bob LaBonde, Doris Larsen, Cyrus Kringe, Carl Wilhelmsen, Joyce Peters, F. Kimball, M. Wentzell.

For the fifty Parkites that are members of the Riding Club, the 1939-1940 season has passed quickly. The club was divided into two classes in the fall, and a third was added in the spring to accomodate the new members. Each class rode once a week at the Horlick Stables.

During the year several parties were given by the club. In the fall and spring Mr. Horlick gave each class a weiner roast party, and three sleigh rides provided activity during the winter.

Waiting to leave for their ride are Rosemary Hulett, Iris Wurz, and Marjorie Spring, while Helen Kweksus, Eugenia Lewis, and Jean Clausen longingly watch and probably wish that this was their night to ride.

Clifford Kelsey, Gloria Chesnut, Miss Sørensen, and Joyce Roever.

Audubon Club

Morris Rood points out the flight of a flicker to Helen Quimby, Elinor Genich and Don Snyder.

The Audubon club sponsored many interesting field trips during the spring and fall months for the purpose of studying the habitations and characteristics of birds. The highlights of the season were the May and fall breakfasts at which all new members were initiated.

Several times outside speakers presented the club with very interesting talks on bird subjects.

During Christmas vacation many of the club members went as a group to Milwaukee where they saw renovation work on the Hoy bird collection in progress.

Bob Rassmussen, Richard Janecky, Miss Du Four, Grace Munroe, and Carol Quimby compare the club's pictures with the bird specimens in the library.

Willard Johnson, Margaret Friday, Shirley Mantle, and Richard Keller help to maintain a bird feeding station.

A bird chart was made by Jack Evans in which he recorded bird seen, the time, and the date.

Bob Bohm, the Audubon club's president, constructed the bird shelter which was placed on the south side of the building outside of the study hall 131.

Miss DuFour has been a helpful adviser since the club was organized. Officers for the fall semester were Bob Bohm, Dorothy Bowman, and Grace Lincoln; for the spring semester Bob Bohm, Donald Snyder and Grace Munroe.

Audubonners Dorothy Friday, Elaine Jacobsen, and Corinne Nelson watch for the bird to which Mardelle Schneller directs their attention.

Commercial

Park's commercial department is one of the largest departments in the school with a total enrollment of about 700 students. Students desiring to enter business or commercial work after graduation receive adequate instruction in Park for general office work. Almost every phase of commercial work, including typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, business principles, commercial correspondence, commercial law, and office practice, is taught here.

In the commercial division two contests are held each year. The first, for the best speller in the commercial classes, was won by Marian Backus in the fall semester. The award, a loving cup, was presented to her by the Commercial Honor Club. Betty Schultz proved her stenographical ability in the typing contest last fall, and was awarded the trophy by Grant Stelter, last year's winner.

Outstanding students in the commercial department may be elected to the Commercial Honor Club which is an honorary organization and the only club in this field. The activities of the club are both educational and entertaining, including addresses by outside speakers and trips through Racine factories. In addition to the regular activities, the club sponsored a matinee dance, a skating party, a banquet, and a spelling contest this year.

Miss McDonald and Betty Mogensen, her office practice worker, are discussing some work which Betty is to do (lower left).

All forms of general office work are sampled in office practice. We find Mr. Wall giving dictation to his helper, Rosalie Herbst (lower right).

Department

"Nosing" her way into the Commercial Honor Club is Ellen Jacky who is being initiated by pushing an onion around the room with her nose. Watching are (standing) Olga Sagat, Nancy Muellar, Betty Harter, Phyllis Cook, Irene Venetos; (sitting) Elloree Mogensen, Rosalie Herbst, and Carol Bowman.

The Einstienite club is an organization of students who have had at least a G-plus average in not less than three semesters of mathematics. Its purpose is to create interest in mathematical problems among Park students. The club meets every second Tuesday noon in the room of the adviser, Miss Enright. The officers for the fall semester were

Robert Olson seems to have found a "stumper" from the perplexed look on his face. Mrs. Rose Bruins, math instructor, watches his progress. Grace Halverson is his interested neighbor.

Since one of the purposes of the Einsteinites is to promote suitable mathematical recreation for its members, Doris Deshais, Henry Olsen, Robert Karnopp, Margaret

We find that Einsteinite interest is not all in mathematics. Here Bob Smader, Mary-Elizabeth Whelen, Jeanne Allen, June Thravalos, and Esther Strebel are enjoying the Einsteinite banquet given in the south corridor of the third

Joe Alcott, president; Steve Hasko, vice president; and June Thravalos, secretary and treasurer. For the spring semester they were Ray Oleski, president; Harry McGaughey, vice president; Jeanette Olson, secretary; and Lawrence Matarrese, treasurer.

Rendall, Bob Leslie, and Jeanette Olsen are discovering the fascinating uses of the slide rule.

"Angle W is greater than angle S," might be the words of Oscar Jensen as he and Eugene Noll recite a theorem to Jacqueline Robin. Gordon Petzold is observing their methods before his turn to recite comes.

Home science is a course on the practical side of home management. It deals with health and the care of the sick, and with the house and its equipment and furnishings. For the purpose of demonstrating the correct way of caring for the sick, Miss Thompson has a doll and a doll bed (upper left). Here we see Marie Oertel propping the patient while Lois Gehm, Verla Gibbs, Helen Zivotsky, and Jeanette Wahlen look on.

To sew a skirt for herself is the object of each girl in the sewing class. We see Alice Kis, Alma Klingbeil, Genevieve Kuklinski, Lillian Wolk, and Betty Ann Storbeck using the machines on their skirts (left).

When the skirts are finished, they need to be pressed. Pressing time is a very busy time—for the iron. Irene Bialecki presses her skirt while Ida Bethge, Florence Ingles, and Marie Fachko await their turn. Eileen Zemke keeps busy while she waits (left).

Joyce De Keuster is cutting out her dress with the aid of Miss Teuscher (lower left). Violet Slieman is getting equipment out of her box and Doris Krinkey is looking over a pattern. Leona Kava, seated, is basting a seam on her dress.

The very first step to be made in making a skirt is to fit the pattern. Sarah Mananian and Gerda Haaversen pin the pattern for La-Verne Hendricks (lower right). Peggy Palmer and Shirley Foreman stand by to lend a helping hand if necessary.

Arts

Home planning has to do with family relations or the social side of home management. It teaches the girls a better understanding of the meaning of establishing a home. In this connection it deals with the factors which influence selection of a husband. It teaches the responsibility of parents toward their children and gives experience in selecting a suitable home. Elaine Tange, Alice Moungey, and Tennie Mae Bowman study floor plans in magazines (upper right). Della Sorenson and Lois Tobinski look on.

The cooking department is quite a popular one. Girls find that the things which they learn here will be very useful to them. Arlene Helding and Mary Nielsen cook over a stove (right). Marion Mainland and Ingeborg Rhode stir a cake batter and Pearl Heusdens washes dishes. Doris Mae Leininger is the idle dish-dryer.

More girls gaining experience in the culinary arts (right) are Violet Kauth, Muriel Preuss, and Shirley Goff behind the table. Dorothy Simons and Joan Pfieffer are looking into the oven to see if the muffins are nearly done.

Six pretty cooks should be able to turn out good muffins, but those in the bottom of the oven seem to be rather flat, or do you suppose that the picture was just faked? Those standing (lower right) are Audrey Lewane, Virginia Thompson, Norma Wyman, and Mildred Wilkins. Looking into the lower oven are Gladys Nelson and Patricia Hanson.

Rifle Club

Guiding the activities of the Rifle Club this year as officers were Robert Bohm, vice president; Robert LaBonde, president; and Paul Rolsch, secretary.

Most frequently used of any of the four shooting positions is the prone position, being demonstrated here by Jerome Pfieffer, Fred Hansche, and Howard Simonsen. William Proost is coaching.

Tests to determine eye efficiency are being conducted by Niels Nielsen on the extreme right. Harold Graham records the results of Donald Bohm's test while Joe Longo looks on.

More advanced marksmen use the offhand, the kneeling, and the sitting positions, and here are Bill Bach, reloading; and Bob Joyner and Harold Maynard drawing a "bead on the bull."

Largest of all boys' clubs at Park is the Rifle club, an affiliate of the National Rifle Association. With a total membership of 112 members, the club used about 47,000 rounds of ammunition in practice and competitive firing. Some three hundred certificates of marksmanship were issued to members of the club by the N. R. A. Forty-two members shot the Junior Rifle Course as set forth by the U. S. War Department. Six teams of ten men each entered in national bi-weekly matches. The club sponsored a state outdoor match at the county line range in which seven individual medals and a three-position team trophy were won by the club. Two matches between members and four inter-club matches were held. For the first time in a number of years a match was held with Horlick from which Park emerged victorious. By losing the first and winning the return match, Park broke even with the Milwaukee University team.

School "R's" for marksmanship were issued to Harold Arms, Bob Bohm, Bob Joyner, Sid Jacobs, and Niels Nielson. Members of the Prop Twisters Club spend much time making model planes and flying them. Russell Zebell and Bill Mickelson (top) are ready to try out the results of many hours of work.

More chess games are going on between John Wesley and Richard Jensen, Lillian Kovacik and Rose Mikus, and Elsie Duratny and Mary Checkvala (bottom).

The Cartoon Club is holding its weekly meeting and voting on the cartoon of the week. Each member must bring a cartoon or an idea for one, in order to come to the meeting. The cartoon of the week is printed in the Beacon. Bob Christensen is president, Doris Nelson and Grace Munroe are vice president and secretary respectively. In the picture above the members present are, standing, Jerry Spear, Milton Burdick, and Jack Nielsen. Those seated are Grace Munroe, Laurette Mailandt, Doris Nelson, Bob Christensen, Frances Kimball, and Miss Sawyer.

Yes, it's 3:30, but Miss Holt and Miss Ruggles are staying after school to help Janet Clunie, James Ress, Robert Webers, and William Oliver with their "American Spirit" work.

Miss Hunter is explaining about the candle mold to Maxine Larson, while Frances Kemper and June Galbraith look at one of the history books containing material about the Colonial period of America.

At the beginning of the spring semester the production classes of the woodworking shops started the task of making 60 hurdles for the athletic department. This is a typical assignment of this department. Shown here cutting the stock for the hurdles are Arnold Pias, Roy Stapleman, James Roberts, James Varley, Joseph Schrams, Sam Castrianni, Eugene Bealhen, Donald Kohel, and Joe Gedemer (upper left).

ished hurdles. Mr. Beach, Bryce Gardner, John Janosko, Thurman Wade and Al Hughes watch him (lower left).

The machine shop, where machined metal tools and implements are made, is a room of many interesting machines. Watching and working are Edmond Scheppe, Bob Rasmussen, Richard Wisby, Richard Letch, Andrew Bodnar, Herman Mauer, and Lewis Kropp (upper left).

Plans are made in the drawing room. Morris DeYoung studies a drawing made by Dean Asquith and Stanley Czajkowski points out a mistake on it (lower right).

In the drawing room Lyle Johnson, Ralph Uebel, Sigmund Vilagi, and John Stockholm are working on such advanced projects as constructing machine designs and architectural design. This work, in its advanced stages, requires some individual "touch" (upper left).

In the first semester of the electrical course, the nature of electrical magnets and magnetic devices are studied. Jack Boesel and Alan Schneider are testing a house circuit (upper right. This is a part of the second semester's work. Don Brazdzons, Ed Sondergaard, and Max Dajnowski are repairing an electrical motor. This is a part of the advanced electrical courses.

Making a new machine part is an interesting job (right center). Howard Jacobson, Louis Kropp, Bill Stroemer, Robert Fredrickson, and John Friesma all seem to enjoy it.

Getting the right things in the right place is important. For this purpose mechanical drawing students make sketches. Jim Fisher is making one of a bearing cap for a wood turning lathe (lower left).

Very busy at work operating a milling machine in the machine shop are Leroy Peterson, Robert Heffel, Arnold Nielson, and Irving Peterson. The part to be milled is a small bolt (lower right).
